

Northwest is coming to the fair area to be immersed in high colors of clothing and goods ... with the sound of life of ethnic minorities gentleness here. And has come to the fair Upland, tourists can not ignore rods.

CanCau Market is one of the most distant markets - if travelers departing from Sa Pa - and fair best, most vivid reflection of life highlanders.

Previous conference on mountain ice and cups with steep terraced fields in four seasons but changed the color is beautiful too remote, little-known. Recently, the provincial highway 153 was completed with Bac Ha Bao Thang connections then lead directly to Simacai. Since then the crane moved close roads, to purchase the commodity exchange as well as sightseeing cruises past a lot more crowded.

To be fair to visit a complete one, to depart very early in Lao Cai. 4:30 am I was upset on the road, the gateway to the markets which have seen dozens of cars close together san. Many foreign tourists also departed earlier to look at and feel more completely fair.

CanCau Market meeting weekly on Saturday. Previously the majority of the Mongolian market and seconds, but recent convenient transportation, the Dao, Ha Nhi, the Tay is also involved trading, commodity exchange. Although many domestic and foreign tourists known but officials kept the identity profile of a fair highland. No common language here, ethnic markets that used to voices of the people there, very few people speak Kinh and if they talk to each other to try out or use a mark more commonly used languages are English Mongolia.

The Market meeting lasted from asphalt to a valley in the area for sale: animals, clothing textiles, basic necessities, cardamom, vegetables and local products. There are people to market with a bag chili, some fruit squash, melon or after a handful of freshly picked garden vegetables, simply because they came not only to fair trade which is routine, the joy, the hope is simple estimates of anyone living in the depths of this mountain.

Dining area is always crowded. In sugar cane nuop nuom always buyers who sell girls to hold both long and stripped cane gradually until the final jargon, no knife Morocco. Cream is also a pleasure export items in the fair. At restaurants, people selling hand constant eaters, egg noodles, pour, offers guests ... Corn mint cake, try and win pho probably more popular. Under the gentle slope of a hill for livestock and poultry with mostly men in buying or selling.

The space was filled with colors typical of the northwestern highlands, which attracts most people find the area selling dresses and fabrics. The colorful dress with sophisticated patterns, ingenious. The colorful fabric rolls used as sewing material belt, belt lines or flashing. These stores sell only to dazzle colorful scroll only by hundreds of lottery launched to attract buyers ...

When the sun is up to the top of the fair Cranes begin to melt. They packed up the goods, promptly furnished, neat. Literature to about 13g, the new market a few hours longer busy buyers who are selling now just a green field in the sunshine silence spread over the roofs tattered and dusty roadside grass. Cranes like a dream just passed, to whom a visit to the colors of images and it will also square off in the heart ...
